HAWAIIAN GAZETTE

DEVOTED TO HAWAIIAN PROGRESS.

PUBLISHED AND EDITED BY HENRY M. WHITNEY.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 5. Louislann Rice Growers and the Hawaiian Treaty.

Judging from the tenor of a New York tele-gram, dated June 7th, the Hawaiian treaty is in "The Louisiana Committee," so reads the dispatch, "sent to Washington to fight the Hawsian treaty, have been assured by the chairman of the committee that their case is won and the treaty defeated." The New Orleans Memo-rial against the Hawaiian Treaty says, among

As large portions of this State are suitable for no other crops than sugar and rice, and their cultivation and development have added largely to the wealth of the country and the comforts of the poorer classes, it does seem unwise, we submit, to discriminate against the recipients of these benefits as well as against those whose living depends upon the production of their labor. The capital now invested in these branches of agriculture and business would measurably be withdrawn, and the remainder lost. Already confidence has been much impaired, and it only emains to adopt the treaty to put an end to the straggle of this people for mere existence."

The Hawaiian Treaty scarce extends from Louisiana to Georgia and South Carolina, and dire distress is pictured to result from the introduction of Hawaiian sugar and rice into this country daty free. To show how the subject is being agitated in the South, and to what extent opposition is being aroused, we copy the following from the New Orleans Picayune;

This leaves barely time enough for the people of New Orleans to make a united effort against. a measure which would be inconcervably disastrous to the interests of our people. With the view of leaving no measure untried to avert this public calamity threatened, the Chamber of Com-merce and the Rice Exchange of this city unite in a call for a mass meeting of citizens on Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce, to whom will be submitted the memorial drawn up by the committees. It is also proposed that a committee, selected from our best and most influential citizens, be appointed to bear the memorial to Washington, and to remain there and attend the session of the Senate committee. A matter like this, in which the most vital interests of the State and city are involved, needs something more than a memorial, however strong its terms may be. The services of able and infigential men are required, who will be on the spot to answer every question, and to meet every argument which may be urged in opposition."

The writer pursues his theme in the following

"The area of the largest one alone is 4,800 equare miles. [should be 4040]. A large proportion of the soil is ensceptible of being brought under cultivation. The climate is favorable, and would have been shot but for the soil of the soil is ensceptible. mous. At this time, without the benefit of the treaty, the greater portion of the exports from the Islands nomes to the United States. Take off the duty and the whole crop may be shipped here to the extent of the demand, the maives supplying themselves from other producing coun-

Here the assertion is made that the islands can sapply the entire demand of the United Republic. And though he refused to 8ght States for sagar and rice, should the duty on these articles be taken off. Let us view this from a statistical point:

Consumption of foreign sugar in 1875 . Estimated distribution of domestic. Total areign and domestic.

Total exports from Hawaiian Islands to all countries in 1878. 685,332 Short of the demand

The exports of sugar from the Islands in 1875 were greater than in any previous year, and after viewing the foregoing figures it does not seem probable that the production can be built up so as to reasonably create any serious alarm. Let us now take the rice question. The opponents of the treaty urge that it is possible for the Islands to produce 50,000,000 pounds of rice nnest at the South. Without arguing the possibilities of the case let us glance at the actual conditions. The total exports of Hawaiian rice have #19 825 1872 154 257 1873 488,567 1874 441,750 1875 40,490 48,839 Total

It is quite probable that little or no deference has been paid to statistics in this matter, or no such misrepresentations, it is charitable to suppose, would have been indulged in, with any show of success, to defeat the treaty.-Alta California.

The Hawaiian Treaty.

The following from the S. F. Chronicle, was published on the strength of the report referred to else-where, that the treaty had been defeated. It will show that our friends in California are solicitous as to the result, but not doubtful as to the beneficial operation of the treaty:

According to yesterday's telegraphic advices from Washington, the Hawaiian Reciprocity treaty has been defeated through the efforts and importunities of the rice growers and sugar manufacturers of the South, If so, a great and important measure, based upon the highest considerations of national statemanship, has been successfully resisted upon false representations of sectional interests. Those who are accurately pos-ted in regard to this matter are well aware that the production of rice and sugar in the Hawaiian is lands is too insignificant to injure the interests that have is too insignificant to injure the interests that have made common cause against the treaty. The rice and sugar product of the islands has been immensely exaggerated by the Southern opponents of the treaty; and if the opposition should prove successful, that unfortunate result will be attained through purely political influences. The view os the question taken by the Carolina rice growers and Louislana sugar-planters is an exceedingly narrow one, and it should have had little weight with Congress. Our trade with China and Japan is increasing with every year, and it is of prime importance to the security of this trade that we should possess precisely the kind of influence at the Hawaiian group that the treaty would secure us.

It will be a national disgrace as well as a national JUST TO HAND! loss if Congress, out of complaisance to the appeals from South Carolina and Louisiana shall forego the great benefits which would accrue to the United States from the ratification of the treaty.

Gambetta.

The ablest, and according to appearances, the coming man of France is Gambetts. He has lately written an important letter upon the present situation which is attracting almost universal attention and very wide spread satisfaction. We do not think that the eminent qualities which characterize M. Gambetta as a politician and an orator have ever appeared more clearly than in this really finished composition. There are per-ceptible in it that passion for justice and liberty, that profound faith in the destines of democracy, and that Republican enthusiasm which make M. Gambetta's heart beat in unison with that of the people, and which are the secret and justification of his influence over the masses; and at the same time it must be admitted that this ardent demoerat is a prodent and thoughtful politician, a man of Government who counts realities and possibili ties, and who, to use his own words, knows how to "come to terms with necessity, and not to endanger the fate of an idea or a nation for the sake of a theory."

THIRM'S AND THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.—The politicians in Franco who are using the Republic to swing the Bonapartes into power again, will not relish M. Thier's piain words in aspeced at Arachon. He said, "The republic is a voted, and under penalty of being the most inconsistent of men, we must, I repeat, make it a success. It will be said that is very difficult. I have it that is the monorphy which has fallen thrice. Boots & Shoes know it; but is the monarchy, which has fallen thrice in forty years, easier? Doubtless it depends on the monarchial parties to increase the difficulty by oppo-sition, either open or concealed; but will they for stion, either open or conseased; but will they for this reason make the monarchy possible? No; the same causes exist—will exist for ever. What is the real situation to-day? The republic is no longer a question of principle, but a question of application. Let France, proceeding with discernment, and guard-ing against a spirit of exclusion—for all exclusive governments are barren—let France, I say, welcome all men who have shown how to conduct themselves. and let her guard against those who, Republicans on the election day, will hasten on the morrow to explain their profession of faith by the clause which permits

Worse than Folly,

So insane are the methods which characterize the So insane are the methods when characterize the more prominent parts of this anti-Chinese movement, that it would seem, really as though they were inspired and pushed along by those persons and corporations whose interests are most subserved by the Chinese, and who mean to make the crusade so odious as to defeat its own avowed purposes. It is worse than folly—it is a crime to beat the reveille, and call the research owner, and well these remarkations are than folly—it is a crime to beat the revenile, and can the masses to arms; and yet these preparations are making in San Francisco, and the daily press gives them a quasi endorsement. It ought to denounce them in the name of justice and good government, instead of following them with approving comments. It ought to call on the manicipal authority to suppress these incendiary movements at once. The or-It ought to east on the mannerpal authority to sup-press these incendiary movements at once. The or-dinance which forbids carrying concealed weapons should be applied in these cases, for if the weapons are not concealed then partially concealed butevilect purpose is a blood-thirsty one, and as much a menace to the public welfure and safety as the brigand's and highwayman's belt.

They send sordial greetings to Antioch, and actually encourage such outrages at home as disgraced that village over the Bay. If reason and common sense would be listened to, it would be as plain to be seen as the incendiary Dr. O'Donnell's pine knots burning opposite the International Hotel on Kearay, that these mad advices are vastly more full of danger than is the presence of the Chinese. We may just as well bang up our harps, and give over it is contest at once, if Autioch is to be emulated, and wild and reckless youth is to be armed with deadly weapons in defence of our anti-Chinese cause. We may win a local temporary advantage by such tactics, but the moral opposition we will evoke will, in the end, sweep us and our cause into the bay of ignominy and contempt.—San Jose News

To produce this 1.500 000 tons of coal are required, each ton of Newcastle coal yielding on an average 10 000 cubic feet, and 2½ bushels of coke to the cwt.

HAYTI.-Our dispatches from Kingston, Jamaica, of the 1st instant, give an account of the populace of Port-au-Prince-Hayti's capital—earrying General Canal on their shoulders to the National Palace; while a private letter from the same Haytien city mentions, through our New York dispatches of May Sth, that Dominique, the ex-President of Hayti, died on the French steamer upon which he fled from the blands, from wands received during the last battle spoiler Dominique, joined the insurgents against him, and would have been shot but for the act of the colored American Minister, Bassett, who gave him domicile in his residence for five months before he was exiled to Jamaica, whither he was carried on the Powhatan, by agreement with our Government. On the flight of Dominique from Port as Prince, after becoming very unpopular, among other reasons for ordering all Cubans to quit Hayti, and for ordering the Foreign Club closed, which was refused by its President, Munister Bassett, General Canal was invited to assume the position of provisional head of th Republic. And though he refused to fight for th way, it seems by the dispatch it was forced upon his Such are the ups and downs of that Republic.

HUNT'S REMEDY.

THIS REMEDY WAS ORIGINALLY PREof a stout and plothetic habit, was select with a sudder attack of general droppy, which in a few days threatened his life. The ordinary remedies had all proved ineffications, and under their use the patient was tast failing her an alarming state. The droppy was general and extensive, legs swelled to an enormous size and the water tourcasing rapidly. He was antirely mable to the down in bed, and was forced to reinain night and day in a sitting posture. This state of things continued until by the advice of the physician altuded to, the present remety was rired. In consequence of its peculiar nature it was necessary to present the second of the present of the part it with great care, and in order to insort this it was intrusted to the family of Mr. Hunt to procure and compound it.

The remedy was administered, and almost from the moment of its reception a decided insprovement became manifest. The kidneys were immediately affected and rouned to action; the swelling of the legs rapidly subsided, the lungs were freed and resumed their healthy and agreeable action; the fiesh of limbs renamed its clasticity, walking? remaining, and he was rapidly convalencing, when unfortunately, prompted by this rapid improvement, be gave up the remedy for a short time.

It was unfortunately, prompted by this rapid improvement, be gave up the remedy for a short time.

It was unfortunate, for the curative process was arrested, the kidneys flugged in their action, staic becoming torpid, the water increased with frightful rapidity and he sam again found himself in a very alarming state. The remedy was again had recourse to, and by its persevering use the disease was a second time subduct. But this was a most aggravated and severe case, and it took all the virtues of the Remedy, combined with care and time, to cradicate the effects of the disease. But through a persevering use of it a permanent cure was effected, and he resumed his active out-of-door occupation, within a short time, a well man.

time, a well man. This was the manner in which the Remedy was brought into notice, and since then for a period of twenty five [25] rears the medicine has been prepared after the same approved formula by Mrs. Hout, and used by our first physicians in their private practice, for this and similar complaints.

It has been well and favorably known and extansive use sinced that time by all classes, both with and with the advice of physicians, and has been the means of savi from a lingering and frightful disease, and untimely deamay of our most estimable and well-known citizens.
